Omitted from future plans were three teachers ($2,700) from the high school summer program, six teachers ($3,600) from the elementary summer program, the position of special funds clerk ($3,262.50) and $9.319 in various improvements at Edison school.

Would a Park Help the Menominees?

Gov.-elect Nelson's interest in having the state acquire some land along the scenic waterways within the Menominee Indian reservation in Shawano county for park purposes will have the interested support of most people familiar with the reservation.

Those interested in the welfare of the Menominees have been insisting on legal safeguards which would prevent the Menominee lands from falling into the hands of speculators and self-seekers once the tribe is free of federal control. Nelson's plan is not in conflict with the full protection of the Menominees' interests. On the contrary, it is intended to contribute something to the economic well-being of the tribe.

It is contemplated that the chief occupation of the Menominees in the future will be the harvesting of timber, the operation of sawmills and the sale of lumber. However, as the governor-elect said, there should be nothing incompatible in the use of certain scenic lands for park purposes while logging operations are carried on nearby. In fact such a park might contribute substantially to the income of the people surrounding it, if it were sufficiently interesting to attract large numbers of visitors.

Over the years the Menominees have built up a considerable amount of tourist trade. It seems likely that this trade would be increased if the present reservation were to be transformed into a beautiful state park surrounded by timberlands and the Menominees carrying on an extensive lumbering business.

Considering the present financial problems facing the state it is unlikely that any large expenditures for this purpose will be authorized immediately. But since the proposal seems to be one that would benefit both the Menominees and their neighbors, it deserves careful investigation

Story of Prohibition Told Again

Last week news items took notice of the fact that Prohibition had come to an end just 25 years ago, on Dec. 5, 1933. Since that time a whole generation has grown up in America and in another 25 years there will be few about who will even remember this disastrous experiment.

For those who are now somewhat over the age of 25 it is astounding that the few years since repeal actually number 25 whereas the entire period of Prohibition was only 13. The Prohibition period was so torn with strife and reckless law breaking that one year seemed like an age. It is difficult to understand now how so many techniques in the manufacture of liquor and such tremendous know-how in its distribution could possibly have been developed to such a high degree in such a short time. Long before Prohibition came to an end people in all sections of the country, both rural and urban, were fully conversant with the ways and means of fermenting and distilling liquor of high alcoholic content. Almost every householder knew how to produce 4 to 6 per cent beer, and wine and cider with good strong alcoholic percentages were available on all sides.

Temperance is and always has been a great virtue. Prohibition, on the other hand, had nothing whatever to do with temperance. The strange thing is that many people who believed in temperance were misled by the promises of Prohibition and joined in advocating this law which was the epitome of intemperance.

It was Franklin D. Roosevelt's clear view of the situation, his courage and common sense that lifted the burden of Prohibition from the United States. His stand, which contributed greatly to his election, led directly to repeal which may eventually be recognized as one of his greatest accomplishments.

There is still room in the United States for wise temperance work. But there is no place here for Prohibition and certainly there must be very few who would not willingly admit that Prohibition was a failure and that we have been much better off without it.

Medical Research and the School Disaster

As a result of the disastrous fire which swept through Our Lady of the Angels school in Chicago there are 68 children and one nun receiving treatment for burns. Twelve are still on the critical list.

To insure that the very latest knowledge in the treatment of burns will be available to these victims of the fire, two leaders of a military research team which has been specializing in the treatment of burns for about 10 years went to Chicago to give what help they could. The medical officers are from Brooke Army Medical center at Fort Sam Houston, Tex. They have joined in discussions with representatives of all Chicago area hospitals on the matter of burns therapy management.

One interesting bit of knowledge which these experts brought to Chicago is that skin taken from the newly dead may be used in grafting to save the lives of persons suffering from severe burns. For this purpose the skin is borrowed from the dead and placed in a skin bank where it may be preserved at above freezing temperatures for 25 days, and has been kept alive up to 53 days through the use of serum antibiotic solutions in which the skin is immersed.

The skin is placed in position on the burned surfaces much as an ordinary bandage would be. While there it serves as a bandage halling the escape of vital body fluids and easing the pain. After about six weeks this borrowed skin sloughs away but in the meantime a high degree of healing will have taken place.

It is not known that this particular form of treatment will be used on any of the Chicago cases, but it is good to know that the best information available has been brought to Chicago and will be used as needed to save the lives of these children who are undergoing terrific pain.

A Variety of Witchcraft?

A year or so ago there appeared on the market a "voodoo kit" aimed at making fun of the business of sticking pins into dolls in order to annoy one's enemies or otherwise put a spell over people from a distance. But maybe Americans shouldn't have been so ready to chuckle.

Visitors to Haiti, where voodoo once thrived and still has proponents, have been bringing home as souvenirs clever looking swizzle sticks. On the top are cashew nut shells carved to look like voodoo figures with black beady eyes to stare coldly at smirking tipplers.

But the U. S. Public Health Service has discovered that the cashew shells contain cardol which causes allergic reactions in a lot of people. And they suspect that the eyes are extremely poisonous jequirity beans. So far no one but an experimental rat has died from the beans, but a lot of drinkers have broken out in a rash similar to that caused by poison ivy.

Shown Above Is A View of Becker's Dog Motel, (also known as Becker's Lakeland Kennels), located on Highway 41, just south of the Winneconne avenue intersection, Neenah. The modern kennels, popular with dog owners throughout the Fox Cities, is owned and operated by twin brothers, Paul and John Becker. The combined experience of the two men in handling dogs is more than 25 years. The kennels, patterned after the research kennels of Gaines Laboratories, are clean and quiet and accommodate 24 dogs. One of the unique features at the kennels and one that is appreciated by dog owners, is a stationary wall, 4 feet high, that separates each kennel. The wall provides cleaner individual kennels and removes the possibility of dogs fighting, Paul said. The kennels, built in 1954 have radiant heat, and inside and outside runways. Dogs may be boarded by the day, week or Cash requirements on the month. Paul will call for and deliver a dog for a home described above and unsmall additional fee. He believes every dog "deserves der the picture at right are a good home" and the kennels carefully handles any only $1,500 down (includes dog, from a Chihuahua to a St. Bernard. A Clearance Sale Of Automatic Rapid-Soft water conditioning units is now in progress at the Rapid-Soft Co., Highway 41 (between Winneconne avenue and Main street), Neenah. Film Writer Now Top Man In Movieland

No Longer Low on Totem Pole, States Daniel Taradash

New York -- The writer is no longer low man on the Hollywood totem pole.

"In the old days a writer was kind of like a guy in uniform before Pearl Harbor." said Daniel Taradash. "He was afraid to go into the best

"But now he is a person of importance in the industry. Everybody at the moment is paying him lip service. Production heads are getting the idea that writers can do more than just sit at a typewriter. Their advice is sought. They are now allowcd — even welcomed — on the set. Taradash, who now also directs and produces films, is currently one of the highest' paid writers in the field.

Started at Top The film writing minimum s now $350 a week. But Taradash's typewriter is now so highly regarded that he can demand and get a "big chunk more than $100,000" for writing a picture, plus a share of the profits.

His latest script jobs were for "Bell, Book and Candle." and "Andersonville."

Taradash, a Harvard law graduate, rang the bell in 1938 in his first assignment in Hol-Iwwood as co-author of the script for "Golden Boy." "I started at the top - a great place if you can swing it," he remarked, "But it takes a lucky combination of circumstances."

Humphrey-Tells Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Producers' association, and Adlai Steven-Of Talks With Khrushchey

Agreement Areas Few, but Private Sessions Useful

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Eight hours Nikita Khrushchev --the challenging opporwhich week in Mos-

Hubert Humphrey, Minne-Demoabout was promptly relayed to the state department. This did not include a supplementary discussion "of a personal nature" reserved by the senator for presentation to President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles this Significantly the conversation touched on some matters in the category of philosophy and religion. It didn't occupy the two men as much as the many other subjects of current importance but may have been equally worth while. Unless two men who try to settle any international dispute can agree on what is right or wrong, what is moral or unmoral, what is just or unjust, what is truly beneficial to millions of human beings and what is likely to be to tween countries. With these things in mind, the writer picked up the telephone Sunday and talked with Sen. Humphrey in London. Following is an excerpt from our recorded conversation which Mr. Humphrey permitted me to quote:

ily of any of the major problems that cause friction be-

Question — "Did you get into the religious phase—our belief in God and how so many people on our side have in mind this fundamental difference between our nations as being in the background of our difficulties?

Religious Freedom A. "I commented on that but primarily in terms of questions. I asked*about anti-Semitism, for example, in the Soviet Union, and about the whole question of religious freedom there. Mr. Khrushanti-Semitism and said there was a degree of religious freedom - in other words, that people could go to their churches. Of course, I pointed out that there were very few of them to go to. He was not too responsive, I might say. on this. I told him that the physical well-being of man was conditioned by his spiritual well-being, and that one of the things that always disturbed us was the lack of spiritual emphasis.

"He, of course, responds to this sort of talk by saying that, in the socialist or communist countries, people identify their own individual welfare with the welfare of the state. May I put it this way: That you can have some opportunities to discuss these things but I doubt that it changes the minds of the leaders very much.

"The degree of discussionthe amount of time given to it." Sen. Humphrey said, "indicated that there was some interest in what we were saying. One other thing: Mr. Khrushchev also told me a great deal about his parents and their religious feelingsthat they were devout Christians and that he himself had been brought up in the Russian Orthodox faith. He dema onstrated some knowledge of the Bible - so that, despite all of this odd, atheistic talk, I have a feeling that even Marxism does not fully eradicate the Christian spirit. I happen to feel that much of our activity - much of our program relating to the Soviet Union — needs to be put on this moral and spiritual bas-

Conclusions Drawn The Minnesota senator drew certain conclusions from his talk with the Soviet premier. One of them is that Mr. Khrushchev wants a summit conference and anything else that would enhance his own position within the Soviet Union. He gives the impression of hurt feelings. He thinks he should not be excluded from Western councils but should be treated as an equal. This implies perhaps not exactly a feeling of inferiority but a resentment.

Such an attitude is not unnatural with the leaders of governments that are relatively new to history though it should not be surprising when a whole ideology contrary to what the rest of the world has hitherto followed is being espoused. The senator came away with the feeling that the areas of agreement at present are
